Well, at least I try. It's All Good Thursday, May 9, 2009 Frito Pie My latest project is Frito Pie. I love eating this, and this is why I get the name, my mouth is always on a Frito (Hint: Look at this picture) As I was mentioning before, my friend Heather, told me about this recipe. She got it from her mother. And just like how I got my mac & cheese recipe from my mother, I am posting my mother's recipe for Frito Pie.The objective of the proposed research is to define and characterize all the genes encoding the differentiation of the avian erythroid lineages, the definitive erythroid series and the erythroid series. The avian erythroid system is an excellent model for the study of human diseases of red cell and platelet dysfunctions. For instance, the first disease induced by a single gene mutation in humans is beta-thalassemia. This mutation is readily
