The English version of the unabridged version of the Arabian Nights.Follow Us Enterprise IPOs pick up pace During the past two quarters, more than 20 percent of the companies that went public in 2000 have completed IPOs and more are on the cusp of doing so. The delay that has characterized the IPO market up until now has begun to abate. A record-setting 20 companies began trading on the New York Stock Exchange and NASDAQ in October, the most in any calendar quarter since at least 1991. And the flood gates appear to be opening for the new millennium. Most analysts expect to see at least another 20-25 IPOs by the year's end. In a recent survey, fund managers said they expected to commit at least 20 percent of their capital to IPOs this year, the highest percentage since 1995. Networking and telecommunications service provider Level 3 Communications, which began trading on the NYSE Oct. 24, now stands as the highest-priced IPO in the past two years at $6.5 billion. It's a record that stands as the cheapest among IPOs since the market had its biggest falloff in 1999. As of Dec. 1, the number of companies expected to debut this year stood at 23, according to Consensus forecasts. In addition to Level 3, it includes financial services group Franklin Templeton and real estate investment group BlackRock. IPOs in the second quarter could eclipse the 20-quarter record of
